DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-4, and 31, drawn to a viral vector expressing 5T4 antigen, classified in class 435, subclass 320.1.
- II. Claims 6 and 8, drawn to a modified antigen, classified in class 530, subclass 328.
- III. Claims 9-12, 14, and 16, drawn to a vaccine comprising 5T4, classified in class 424, subclass 277.1.
- IV. Claims 13, 15, 18-21, drawn to a method of eliciting an immune response against 5T4 in a subject, classified in class 514, subclass 44.
- V. Claims 24-30 and 43, drawn to a vector encoding a TAA, classified in class 435, subclass 320.1.
- VI. Claims 32-34 and 41, drawn to a method of eliciting an immune response by administering a vector encoding a TAA, classified in class 424, subclass 277.1.
- VII. Claim 42, drawn to a method of breaking immune tolerance by administering a poxvirus encoding a weak immunogen, classified in class 424, subclass 184.1.
- VIII. Claims 22 and 44, drawn to a kit comprising a vector encoding a fused molecule, classified in class 536, subclass 23.4 and class 514, subclass 1.11.
- IX. Claims 23 and 45, drawn to a kit comprising a vector and a prodrug/enzyme, classified in class 536, subclass 23.2 and 23.4.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Art Unit: 1648

Inventions I and V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case, although the different inventions comprise vectors, each vector expresses a structurally and functionally distinct tumor antigen. The vector of group V can be used to express a number of various tumor products.

Inventions I, II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case, the antigen of group III does not require a vector and is chemically and functionally distinct from either group I or II.

Inventions I, III and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the method can be practiced with either product of group I or III.

Inventions V and VI are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the vector of group V can be used in different processes, such as transfecting a cell culture to produce TAA proteins.

Inventions VIII and IX are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to different kits comprising different components that can be used in different methods.

Inventions I-VI, VIII, IX and VII are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the method of group VII requires different steps and ingredients from any of the methods in previous groups and does not require the use of any of the claimed products.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
